

The keenest kind of rivalry is on in the matter of who shall lead the German at the University club Thanksgiving eve. Five of the boys are having their hair curled and making up especially for the part, and Chairman Charles Post of the social committee is being entertained right and left with a view to securing his vote for the all important task. Seriously, the German is to be the greatest kind of a success, the personnel of the dancers alone making it well worth while. The favors are said to be wonders of their kind and the view for the more sedate members of the club who will see that the affair goes off in proper shape with about thirty couples in the dance will be a good one.

The coming week bids fair to be the busiest since the springtime. Two large teas are arranged. Mrs. Sol Siegel having issued cards for tomorrow afternoon and Mrs. R. P. Hayward for Thursday. Besides this a number of dinners are on, some small events for fair visitors and the usual run of bridge affairs. From now till after the annual thanks are offered the smart people will be busy and there will be others, also.

Miss Winnie Rhoades, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira O. Rhoades, now of San Francisco, one of the popular belles of the younger set, is here for a short time and is the guest of Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson. A number of events are planned in her honor during her stay, and the prospect is bright for some gay times in that pretty bunch of debutantes.

Mrs. Charles Wilkes, one of the youthful matrons, is being entertained a great deal during her short visit from Goldfield. Among the affairs given in her honor during the past week were a tea by Mrs. David Ramsey Gray, and a few smaller luncheons.

The new officers from Fort Riley are Captain and Mrs. John C. W. Brooks who are the guests for the present of Captain and Mrs. S. D. Sturgis; and Lieutenant Gurber and Lieutenant Asard who are already settled in the bachelors' quarters.

The reception and ball to be given Wednesday evening by the officers of the N. B. U. promises to be an important event. The governor and his staff will be in the receiving line.

CURRENT EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIAL CIRCLES

A number of the younger maids and matrons have formed a hockey team, the first meeting having been held and the captains for the two sides elected. They are Miss Katherine Williams and Miss Ruth Kirkpatrick, and the players so far selected are Miss Eloise Sadler, Miss Alice Goodwin, Miss Marge Miller, Miss Katherine Judge, Miss Anna McCormick, Mrs. Seton Lindsay, Mrs. S. D. Sturgis, Mrs. George H. Jamerson, Miss May Scallon, Miss Margaret Scallon, Miss Maud Fitch, Miss Louise Colbath, Mrs. Thomas G. Griffin, Mrs. Edward Parsons, Miss Katherine Gaddis, Miss Gertrude McGrath, Miss Dorothy Kinney and Miss Jeanine Young. The first turnout will be Tuesday afternoon on the field at the post.

The annual dinner of the Twenty-ninth mess, composed of the officers of the Twenty-ninth Infantry and the honorary members at the post, will take place next Saturday evening at the Officers' club at Fort Douglas. The honorary members are the officers of the artillery corps and the physicians connected with the army and a few friends in town.

Miss May Moore entertained about two dozen of her young friends at an informal affair Friday evening at the Moore apartments in the Emery-Holmes. Some excellent musical numbers were furnished by Forest Rutherford and also by Miss Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan MacVehle will leave today with their little daughter for a stay of some time on the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Houston leave today for a month's stay in New York and the east.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lee announce the engagement of their daughter, Lottie, to George Warr. The marriage will take place next Thursday.

Miss Gladys Hegney celebrated her eleventh birthday on Tuesday by giving a box party at the Grand to several school friends. After the matinee the guests enjoyed a luncheon at her home, followed by games and music. The guests were Marie Guitard, Julia Fogarty, Frances Fogarty, Theresa Stephens, Esther Cronin, Margaret Connelly and Mauda Hegney.

Miss Nora Gleason gave a studio reception yesterday, introducing a number of her young pupils. Those who took part in an excellent programme were the Misses Esther Tronson, Maud Hegney, Florence Rodson, Lillian Thompson, Minerva Shaw, Ellen Rossan, Florence Sullivan, Eleanor Reilly, Isabella Higgins, Mauda Hegney, Ethel De Wein and Adelaide Earls.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson Pratt announce the engagement of their daughter, May, to L. B. Howard. The wedding will take place during the month.

Miss Aleda L. Rydval and Howard R. Vincent were quietly married at the home of Mrs. Vincent on Wednesday evening by Dr. W. M. Paden, in the presence of a few relatives.

The first of the Christensen informal soirees was given Wednesday evening at Unity hall. A number of card and social clubs are arranging to attend the parties during the season as a change from their regular programs. Next Wednesday the members of the Concordia club have arranged to attend.

Mrs. J. O. Brunson entertained at a unique party Saturday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Inez Hepworth of Mammoth, prior to her departure for Rock Springs, Wyo. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Miss Helen Bernhardt. The main feature of the evening was a guessing contest. The decorations throughout the house were autumn leaves and marigolds. Covers were laid for twenty-two.

Miss Annie Green became the bride of William R. Landeth Friday afternoon, the ceremony being performed by Elder D. B. Smith. The ceremony was quiet, being performed in the presence of near friends only.

Mrs. Tiernan, mother of Mrs. H. A. Whitley, left yesterday for Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Mrs. John T. Hurst of Ogden will be in the city today to be the guest of her sisters, Mrs. A. D. F. Reynolds and Mrs. M. A. Breeden.
